

RUSSH REVIEW

WISH

Wish's latest collection sees Hollywood royalty Dakota Johnson strike a pose for the label. Our faves from this line? The Spire Dress ($89.95) suited up with the Proxy Blazer ($149.95).

FAIRGROUND

This season, Fairground's Creative Director Valerija Vocanec offers Worth Feeding On. Think tough-talking crinkled twill, panelled alongside cosy poodle brush knits and laid back ribbed rayon. Leopard print silk, rose-patterned cottons; low-cut mini dresses, corset style bodysuits and panelled skinny pants.

PARKLIFE

With a habit of breaking the artists who'll soundtrack your summer, the Parklife festival tours Australia late September-early October, in some seriously gorgeous parks.

TEMT

Feminine vintage prints, chunky knits and washed-out denims; crochet knits and soft boudoir blouses – TEMT's winter line is perfect to throw on and thaw out even the coldest winter morning. www.temt.com.au.

WHEELS AND DOLLBABY

Named for the 1960s grainy Western starring Marilyn Monroe, Wheels and Dollbaby's first foray into denim is not to be missed. Designer Melanie Greensmith's well-cut, super-flattering fits come in classic hues of indigo and black alongside an edgy leather look finish and channel influences as broad as 50s Bardot and Monroe to 80s and 90s rock 'n' roll attitude.
